PLEASED TO MEET YOU

There's nothing more important to me, than building lasting relationships. With my clients, my business partners and my friends. I have stopped thinking in the usual B2B or B2C categories. Instead, my philosophy is H2H, human to human. That's what I really believe in. Because even if content, quality and expertise are still very important factors, it always comes down to culture, values and our mindset, when we make the decision with whom we chose to work with. Wouldn't you agree?

GLOBAL KEYNOTE SPEAKER, AUTHOR AND ECONOMIST

Howdie, I'm Ilia Grzeskowitz

one word, because I'm constantly wearing so many different hats and my head is always full of different ideas, so that I sometimes struggle with focusing on what's really The urge to question the status quo. To let go what used to work and boldly try out new have been the reason that my life was heavily moment to the other.

town Lübeck to study economics and marketing at the universities of Greifswald, Mannheim and Hamburg. But I wasn't spending much time in the lecture hall, because I had so many awesome jobs. I worked as an interpreter for a Texan construction company, drove with Nigerian businessmen through rural northern Germany to buy armoured sedans, was a business development manager for a software company and wrote business plans for Start-Ups in the age of the New Economy (yes, I'm that old).

The Hard School of Working in Retail

Despite all that I chose - driven by my fascination for sales and consumer behaviour -It's not that easy to describe myself with just a pretty conservative career in retail. At the age of twenty-seven, I started as the youngest store manager for Germany's largest department store chain Karstadt, and for the next seven years I was responsible for ten different locations all important. But when I look back, there over the country, lead thousands of employees definitely is one constant in my life: Change. and managed sales figures in the three digit million range. But while my career just began to kick off, the organization drifted into a huge ways of doing things. To live a life based on crisis, so that - together with my teams - I had my own terms. Change and transformation to fight various internal and external changes on are the red thread that have always a daily basis (think: VUCA). Locations, accompanied me through the various phases Strategies and every single job could be gone of my own development and more than once from one day to the next, so uncertain was the permanent reorganization. As a leader, I had to shaken and turned upside down from one shut down department stores. lay of lots of good people, but was also able to plan and execute future oriented projects.

When I was thirty-three, I was in charge of one children showed me that there is more to life of the largest department stores of the country, and if you would have seen me from the outside, And I discovered one of my greatest strength: you probably would have said: "He's made it!" Empathy. At the age of twenty, I left my home- But on the inside I was becoming more and frustrated, so I gladly said yes, when I was offered a contract by the Swedish furniture company IKEA. During my time in the organization, I got to know the Scandinavian way of leadership as well as the other side of change - the innovative, active and future oriented one.

FAMILy FirSt -BUSIneSS SeCOnD

As much as I liked the retail business (and I still do), as time went by, I discovered my real passion: working with the people. To inspire my employees, customers and business partners to use the power of change to grow and get better. To understand what makes us tick and how we make our choices. And in March 2008, in a traffic jam on the Autobahn, I made a choice that should change my life like no decision before: I quit my safe job as a corporate executive and started my own company.

Since then, I have published thirteen books (which have been sold way over 100K times and have been translated into lots of different languages), gave hundreds of keynote speeches for great clients all over the world and awesome personalities hire me as their personal coach (which makes me very grateful).

In my one to one work, I help entrepreneurs, managers and executives to live a selfdetermined life that is based on purpose and freedom. On the other hand, I support organizations to develop a culture of change that is based on shared values, diversity and purpose. And even if my team and I were celebrating our 10th business anniversary in 2019 (and I still enjoy working hard and a lot), my family always came and will come first. They are my safe harbour and constantly give me strength and inspiration. But foremost they are my strong why, the rational and emotional reason, that reminds me every single day, what drives me and why my big goal is to change the world one person at a time.

Thanks, Ilja, for sharing your passion for change as a chance to go beyond our self-created limitations. You touched and encouraged our SWISS audience with your witty life and business anecdotes. Audience reviews stated it was the best event of this kind ever!

HOST OF THE ANNUAL CHANGE AWARD

HONOURING ENTREPRENEURS, CHANGEMAKERS AND INNOVATIVE THINKERS

A few years ago, Ilja watched the Oscar's on television and was frustrated, that only celebrities, sport stars and politicians were honoured with an award. In this moment of anger, the idea for his own change award was born. Why don't we also appreciate the people, who are passionately working at making the world a better place every single day? The entrepreneurs, changemakers and everyday heroes of our time? Since then, exactly these people receive one of Ilja's change awards for being a role model for their co-workers, customers and friends.

In 2016, the four awards went to Christine Walker, the CEO of the Munich based PLU Group, Christina Ramgraber, a successful entrepreneur and founder of Sira-Munich, the Afghan top model Zohre Esmaeli and Kai Feige, the CEO of Jocoon GmbH.

Since 2013, the change award show is hosted once a year at the famous Quatsch Comedy Club venue in Berlin. But it's not only the award ceremony itself, that fascinates the audience so much. It's the special combination of top class speakers, inspiring show acts and high level networking opportunities, that creates an atmosphere which makes this annual event a must-see-show in Germany's capital Berlin. Will you join us next year?

CLIENTS AND TESTIMONIALS

BECAUSE NOTHING BEATS REFERRALS FROM SATISFIED CUSTOMERS

Most audiences expect two things: 1) They want to learn something valuable, which they and 2) They want to be entertained, feel inspired and have a good time. My job is to make sure exactly that happens. To understand the messages you want to drive home and to present them in a way your audience will love. I n our briefing call I work hard to understand the challenges, topics and specifics of your industry, organization or company and get a feeling for the overall goal of the event. All with just one goal in mind: To present the content in a thought-provoking, entertaining and memorable way,

But please don't just take my word for it. On this site, you'll find a selection of testimonials can immediately use in their daily business from delighted clients, many who book me again and again or are more than happy to refer me to their friends and colleagues.
